Featuring live music by the North Carolina Master Chorale
8	Are Time & Wine Old Friends ?	Does wine improve with age? How about wines that are meant to be drunk while they are young? Is vintage important? What about wine labels that don't tell you the vintage? This will be a wine tasting to explore this year's theme "The Gift of Time" through the effects that time has on wine and how wine makers view time as a friend or foe. Join Mark Stamm and Beth Ligouri as we taste different vintages along with 'classic' food pairings, because wine is food, after all.
9	Argentine Asado	Please join Chary and Bob Sundstrom for an Argentine Asado, or barbeque. Fine grilled steaks and lamb will be accompanied by homemade chimichurri, other sauces and authentic side dishes. Of course there will also be Argentina wine and desserts. 88	Your very own labyrinth	Do you find meditative or contemplative walking brings you calm and peace? You can have your own personal labyrinth to walk in your backyard. A labyrinth is not a maze where you can get lost, but rather a winding path with one entrance that eventually leads to the center. The labyrinth is an ancient meditative tool used by religions around the world. It is a metaphor for your life and the twists and turns it takes. What's included: you will receive a consultation and site visit to determine where best to place the labyrinth on your property, the type of material to use, and the size and style of labyrinth to build. You will also receive a document containing the completed design, instructions on how to build the labyrinth, and a supply list for building the labyrinth. If needed, I can assist you in building the labyrinth or provide the name of a landscaping company to build it.
